

What's Music Online?

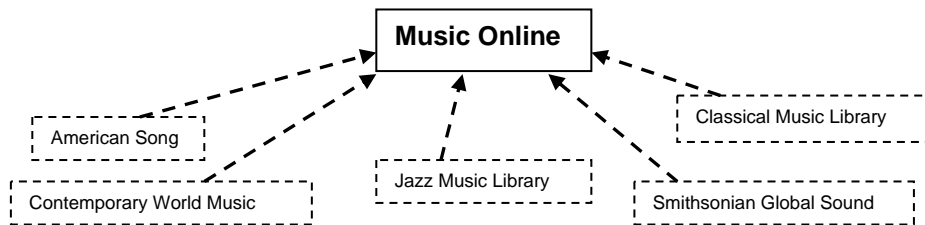

Music Online

Music Online is a music listening database, where you can listen to music through your computer or smart phone. It's kind of like listening to the radio since there's no downloading or copying, but you get to decide what to listen to – just like picking out CDs at the library.

Find Music Online at our Online Resources page

http://www.berkeleypubliclibrary.org/services_and_resources/online_resources.php

Music Online

- 40,000+ albums, 500,000+ songs
- search collections individually, or search across all 5 collections using a single Music Online search box
- American Song – all types of American music from all eras
- Contemporary World Music – from all over the world
- Jazz Music Library - thousands of jazz artists, ensembles, albums, and genres
- Smithsonian Global Sound for Libraries – music, natural sounds, and spoken word; includes all Smithsonian Folkways recordings
- Classical Music Library - orchestral, choral, and opera recordings

Registration

To register, please enter your details below.

Username

E-mail

Make and save Playlists by creating a free login Account

Sign up for a free account by creating a username and password
Sign in using your email address

Having a personal account lets you create and save Playlists of music that you choose

Add a single song or a whole album to your Playlist

using the  button

Want to learn more about Music Online? Ask at the 5th floor Art & Music desk or call (510) 981-6241: Mon 12-8, Tues 10-8, Wed-Sat 10-6, Sun 1-5 www.BerkeleyPublicLibrary.org

Search Tips

★ Sometimes less is more!

If you're not getting enough results, try using fewer words or names
For example: instead of "pedal steel guitar" try "steel guitar"

★ Case, punctuation, and word order are not important, but spelling is.

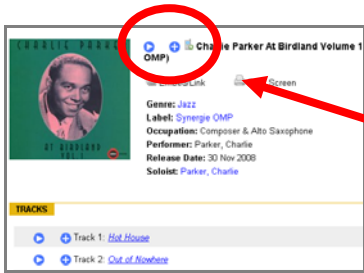

For example: "quintet davis miles" has many results but "quotet davis miles" has none

★ You can enter more than one term into the search box

For example: john cage david tudor electronic

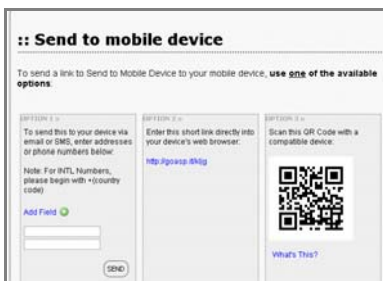

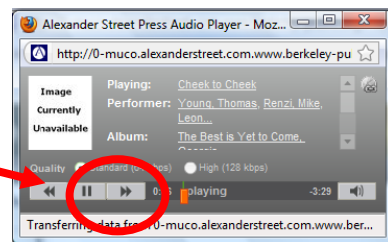

Listening

Must have Adobe Flash Player 9 or higher

Listen to a single song or to a whole album by clicking the  button

Skip to the next track on an album by clicking the  button

Send songs, albums, or playlists to your mobile device

(e.g. smartphone) using the  button

Compatible with Android and iPhone