Is my first grader developing these six early reading skills?

Sound awareness – Hears the sounds of letters, rhyming words, and syllables. What you can do: Read books with rhymes or songs

Word decoding – Knows how to sound out words. What you can do: Encourage your child to write notes, e-mails, and letters using what s/he knows about sounds and letters.

Fluency – Reads smoothly and in a natural rhythm. What you can do: Read aloud or listen to a tape while following along with the book.

Vocabulary – Knows the names of things before encountering them in print. What you can do: Give your child a wide variety of experiences. Sample 30 Bay Area museums and cultural venues with passes through Discover and Go. (discover.berkeleypubliclibrary.org)

Comprehension – Thinks deeply about the content of the book. Can explain why things happened in the book. What you can do: Make connections between what s/he is reading and experiences s/he has felt, has seen in a movie, or read in another book.

Why read aloud to my first grader?

- Reading aloud helps children hear and learn new, longer words as well as more complex sentences. Books with lots of pictures are especially helpful for this purpose.
- Reading aloud increases the background knowledge of children, which will help them read other books about that topic.
- Reading aloud models reading.
- Reading aloud models fluency.
- Reading fun stories aloud motivates children to keep on with the task of learning to read.
- Reading aloud gives your child a chance to spend time with you. Talking about what you read together opens doors to more conversations.
