

Toad Crown

1. Color and snip out your toad crown face.
2. Cut along the dotted lines below to make your crown straps.
3. Attach the crown straps to the back corners of the toad face like this (tape works well).

Note: This is a crown (not a mask) and should be worn proudly on top of your head. Enjoy!

berkeleypubliclibrary.org/book-adventures

A silent toad—
the face of one bursting with much to say.

—Issa (Kobayashi Yataro), born 1793, central Japan
(Source: Cool Melons—Turn to Frogs!/Gollub, Matthew)

←
←
←
Tape this end to the back corner of your frog crown face

Toad:

A tailless leaping animal that is an amphibian and differs from the related frog by having rough dry skin and by living mostly on land.
(Merriam Webster's Elementary Dictionary)

→
→
→
Tape this end to the other back corner of your frog crown face